1st Catholic Church in Hope in 1906

The first Catholic church in Hope was acquired in 1906 by purchasing the building used by the Episcopal congregation and named St. Augustine. The building stood on the northwest corner of the square where the city hall now stands. The congregation was growing with Hope so the Rev. Matthew Saettile O.S.B. and the congregation purchased in 1911 the lot on East Third Street between South Walker and Spruce and the old property was sold to the City of Hope. In the fall of that year, Rev. Patrick J. Higgins was appointed pastor. He built a brick church and named it Our Lady of Good Hope. It was dedicated by Bishop John B. Morris in 1912. In the summer of 1913, Rev. J. J. McGrath came to Hope and built the present rectory in 1914. In 1910 on South Elm Street, a parochial school was opened by three nuns of the congregation of the sisters of St. Rose from Texarkana, Texas. By 1912, they had made such progress with their school they built a new building on East Third Street bounded by Greening and Bonner Streets.

About the year 1916 the Sisters of Mercy from Little Rock took charge of the school and so divided it that one part could be used as a hospital and the other as a school. In 1918, because of finances, the school and hospital were closed and the property was sold to the Board of Education of the City of Hope. It was used as a school. Rev. Harold Heagney was pastor at the time. The Rev. Thomas J. Martin came to Hope as pastor in 1919. It was at this time the DeQueen territory was united with Hope. In July, 1925, Rev. Martin was succeeded by Rev. George F. Strassner. By then the Hope Mission Territory had fourteen counties. Under his leadership by 1933 the DeQueen parish was built back and a resident priest was sent there. His efforts now centered on eleven counties, brought about such results that the Hope mission now consists of just Hope and Magnolia, and the four counties of Hempstead, Columbia, Lafayette, and Nevada.

An open house for the people of Hope will be held late in the fall, the date to be announced.

Young Girls Testify They Were Raped

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Two young Little Rock girls testified Thursday that James W. Nowlin, 46, of Little Rock and the late Roger Dale Middlebrooks, 19, of Benton took turns raping them on Dec. 16, 1970 at Nowlin's house.

The girls, aged 14 and 15, were among seven witnesses presented by the prosecution in the first-degree rape trial of Nowlin. The state rested its case Thursday afternoon and defense testimony is scheduled today.

Middlebrooks hanged himself May 25 in the Pulaski County Jail while awaiting trial.

Nowlin is on trial on a charge of having raped the older girl. The younger one testified that she saw the older girl raped and was then raped. She said, however, that she had repeatedly told authorities that she knew nothing about a rape because she had received threats. She said that Wednesday night she told Deputy Pros. Atty. Arthur John Anderson Jr. that she had been raped "because I had to tell somebody."

Catholics to Dedicate New Church Here

Service Set 11 a.m. on September 5

His Excellency, The Reverend Albert L. Fletcner, will dedicate the new church of Our Lady of Good Hope at Hope, Arkansas, next Sunday morning, September 5, at 11:00 o'clock. The new church replaces the old edifice at the same location which was built in 1912.

The general contractor for the new church was L.T.W. Construction Company of North Little Rock. Plans were drawn by Robert Bally, Architect from Little Rock.

The new church was planned in accordance with the Renewed Liturgy of the Church and has the Altar of Reservation and the Baptistry adjacent to the Sanctuary. In addition the church has the vesting sacristy and a cry room at the front of the church and two work sacristies near the Sanctuary. In the apex of the Sanctuary is a stained glass window preserved from the old church. The old church was demolished early in the summer of 1970. The parish hall on Third Street was converted into temporary quarters for Mass. Construction of the new church was started September 12, 1970 and was recently completed. A large throng of friends and benefactors are expected for the dedication.

Father Joseph Enderlin, the Pastor, will also celebrate his 25th Jubilee on this occasion. Father Enderlin was ordained June 15, 1946 and came to the Hope-Magnolia parish June 12, 1956. A native of Conway, he was the second member of his family to be raised to the Sacred Priesthood. His brother, Father Amos Enderlin, was ordained May 18, 1940 and is now pastor of St. Mary's Church in Helena.

Some Facts, Figures From Lover of Birds, Bees, Mother Nature

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Items of nature's lore a columnist wouldn't know if he hadn't opened a nice long fact-filled letter from Miss Mary Niklas, a lover of birds and bees and beasts and wonderful woodlands and resurrecting waters. Let us start with the common toad which, despite legend, won't give you its warts if you pick it up. According to Mary, a toad is the servant of man without being his toady. It will eat at least 10,000 pests in a single summer, including some 2,000 cutworms. So far, however, it has not been trained to recognize and eradicate the suburban gardener's chief pest—his critical weekend guests from the city.

Leak of Information Probe Spreads to the Pentagon, White House

By KENNETH J. FREED
WASHINGTON (AP) — An FBI investigation into the leaking of sensitive information to newsmen by government officials extends to the White House and Pentagon, as well as the State Department, it has been learned.

Informants say the probe involves lie detectors and demands that officials sign affidavits swearing they did not provide unauthorized material to reporters.

According to these informants the White House ordered the FBI into the current investigation after a July 23 New York Times story gave details of a new secret American proposal at the U.S.-Soviet strategic-arms-limitation talks in Helsinki.

First official indication of the unusual query came Thursday when the State Department acknowledged some of its personnel had been questioned by the Justice Department concerning sources of "stories which we judge to be harmful to the national interest."

Emergency School Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Office of Education announced Thursday that three Arkansas school districts would receive funds from the Emergency School Assistance Program.

The districts and the amounts of the funding are: North Little Rock $143,150, West Memphis $127,650 and El Dorado $79,150. The money will be used to help implement school desegregation plans.

posed to do it. Not so the busy bee. The time sense of a worker bee, says Mary, is so acute that if it discovers a new patch of sweet flowers at say 9:30 a.m. one day, it will return to that same arena of petaled plunder at 9:30 a.m. the next day.

What's new in rabbits? Apparently old habits. These are Mary's revelations: "When forced to, rabbits can swim—and very well, too. They can also punch. Brown hares stand upright and slug it out with their forepaws. Perhaps second only to the antelope, the jack-rabbit is the fastest wild native animal in the United States. Thinks U.S. Lags on Drug Problem

WASHINGTON (AP) — A congressman just back from a worldwide look at the narcotics problem says the United States alone is failing to make headway against heroin addiction.

Rep. Don Edwards, D-Calif., says Japan reports stamping out a widespread heroin problem in 10 years through a massive campaign based on appeals to family and national pride and strict law enforcement.

In Hong Kong, he says, officials claim a cure rate of 40 per cent through a harsh treatment program which places addicts in work camps and takes them off drugs abruptly and completely. "I think these reports are questionable," Edwards said in an interview Thursday, "but there is no doubt that the United States stands practically alone in the world in the size and seriousness of its heroin problem."

Edwards, chairman of a House judiciary subcommittee studying legislative proposals for rehabilitating addicts, said he was most impressed by the British approach.

Contrary to popular belief, he said, the British do not hand out heroin free to addicts but have set up 16 clinics in London, each headed by a psychiatrist, where addicts can get medical treatment and a wide range of help and advice.

If the psychiatrist thinks it necessary, he can prescribe heroin for the addict, but the prescription must be filled each day at the addict's local pharmacy and renewed at the clinic every week, keeping the addict under the psychiatrist's care.

On the law-enforcement side, Edwards said, the English have tough criminal penalties for drug pushers.

Edwards said he is convinced the United States must first regard heroin addiction as a medical, not a criminal, problem, if it is to start solving it.

He also says greater emphasis should be placed on developing sensing devices to detect heroin being smuggled into the United States.

"Marijuana-sniffing dogs are extremely effective," he said, "but they don't work with heroin because they become addicted to it."

Redistrict Violations Alleged

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — William T. Kelly, chairman of the Pulaski County Republican Committee, said Thursday that he had received a large number of inquiries seeking information about alleged legal violations in the state's recently-adopted legislative redistricting plan.

He said most of the inquiries related to specific acts involving discrimination, favoritism, gerrymandering and arbitrary decisions.

Kelly initiated a court test Aug. 20 of the redistricting plan adopted by the state Board of Apportionment, which is composed of Gov. Dale Bumpers, Secretary of State Kelly Bryant and Atty. Gen. Ray H. Thornton Jr.

He said no one could determine at this time exactly what specific questions would be contested in open court, but he said "it will only be necessary for the plaintiff to establish a limited number of legal violations."

Documented proof of irregularities, inconsistencies, discrepancies, arbitrary decisions and other violations are available in minutes of the board meetings and other printed material, Kelly said.

Berlin Pact Signed by Big Four

BERLIN (AP) — Ambassadors of the United States, Britain, France and the Soviet Union signed a Berlin agreement today intended to mark the end of an era and the start of a new East-West relationship in the heart of Europe.

The signing took place in the Allied Control Council Building, where in 1948 the Russians walked out to signal the start of their land-water blockade of West Berlin.

The four ambassadors strode past smartly saluting military police guards and up an ornate staircase of the big gray building that once housed the Prussian Supreme Court in Imperial German times. After signing papers and notes annexed to the agreement, the envoys moved into a high ceilinged room where they had met more than 30 times before.

The signatories were Kenneth Rush, United States; Sir Roger Jackling; Great Britain; Jean Sauvagnargues, France, all ambassadors to West Germany, and Pyotr Abrasimov, Soviet envoy to East Germany across the Communist wall dividing the former German capital.

Sauvagnargues was chairman of this 34th ambassadorial meeting in a series that began March 26, 1970.

Signing had been delayed a full day because of last minute wrangling over an official translation into German to be used by East-West German negotiators, who are to complement the four-power agreement with an arrangement of their own.

Says Arkansas One of Last Frontiers

LONOKE, Ark. (AP) — Gov. Dale Bumpers and Sen. John L. McClellan, D - Ark., Thursday envisioned unprecedented growth for Arkansas.

Bumpers said Arkansas was "one of the last frontiers" in America and that it would enjoy prosperity unequalled in its history during the next 10 years. He cautioned, however, that there must be an "orderly development" in the state.

McClellan said Arkansas was destined to be one of the most dynamic states in the nation.

So Far the Defense of Dollar Works

By LAURANCE F. STUNTZ
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Some bankers and private economists agree that international measures to defend the dollar have worked so far, giving them hope that foreign monetary and trade affairs may return quickly to a more orderly course.

This means that floating currencies with values changing from day to day would be ended. Therefore, an importer ordering 10,000 Japanese radio sets would know what he has to pay for them when they are delivered three months hence.

"Things are going very well indeed," said William Wolman, a First National City Bank vice president. "The critical point was the Japanese agreement to float the yen."

"The change in the British bank rate (equivalent to the U.S. discount rate) was another good sign."

This view was supported by Franklin R. Saul, former assistant secretary of the Treasury.

Saul said the International Monetary Fund, whose Sept. 27 meeting in Washington will be crucial, has been working on new currency values since 1966. That means that much of the staff work for a new lineup of money rates has been done. But negotiations are only starting. If they should be successful, the new rates might even come into effect by the end of this year.

This could be followed by a removal of the 10 per cent extra tariff on imports. The United States has indicated it will do so when satisfactory new exchange rates are fixed.

The change in the British bank rate was the latest evidence of success for the dollar defense. Defense consisted of cutting the dollar loose from gold to let its value float and in the surcharge.

Number Job Seekers More Than Jobs

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's total employment climbed to an all-time high in August but the jobless rate also climbed sharply because there were more new job seekers than jobs, the government said today.

The national unemployment rate rose from 5.8 to 6.1 per cent of the labor force, said the report by the Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics.

It said the total number of Americans at work rose 260,000 to almost 80 million, but the work force rose nearly twice the job gain to an all-time high of 84.3 million.

The bureau adjusts the figures for seasonal factors. Without that adjustment, the actual total employed dropped 63,000 to 80.6 million and actual unemployment dropped 69,000 to a little over 5 million, the report said. The labor force without the adjustment dropped more than 400,000.

The bureau also reported that average earnings of some 45 million rank-and-file workers rose two cents an hour to $3.44 and $1.43 weekly to $129. The report is based on figures collected before President Nixon froze wages and prices on Aug. 16.

The report said the average weekly paycheck was up 5.6 per cent, or $6.80, over the past year, but the 4.4 per cent rise in living costs reduced the gain to $1.23 per week.

The August rise in employment occurred almost entirely among women in part-time jobs.

The rise in unemployment was largely among men and teen-age boys, the bureau said. "A curtailment in production in the steel industry was the principal factor in the rise in adult male unemployment," the report said.

The jobless rate for men rose from 4.3 to 4.5 per cent for a total of 1,989,000. The jobless rate for women rose from 5.7 to 5.8 per cent for a total of 1,800,000 and for teenagers the unemployment rate rose from 16.2 to 17 per cent, for a total of 1,272,000.

In a racial breakdown, the bureau said the unemployment rate for white workers rose from 5.3 to 5.6 per cent for a total of 4.1 million while the rate for non-whites—mostly Negroes—declined from 10.1 to 9.8 per cent for a total of 966,000.

The bureau said most of the rise in unemployment was due to workers who lost jobs rather than from the entry of new job seekers into the labor force.

Warm, Humid Weather in Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Warm and humid weather is expected to continue in Arkansas through Saturday.

Scattered showers and thunderstorms are forecast through Saturday, but the chance of precipitation is expected to decrease Saturday.

Warm, moist air from the Gulf of Mexico still hovers over the state but a cold front promises some relief by Sunday. Radar indicated widespread showers and thundershowers in Arkansas Thursday but very little fell on any reporting stations. Little Rock and Jonesboro each recorded a trace and Harrison reported .05.

Highs Thursday ranged from 81 at Harrison to 89 at Pine Bluff and Fort Smith. Highs today and Saturday should be in the mid 80s to low 90s.

Alabama Law Designed to Block Busing

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Alabama House has approved a law aimed at blocking busing to bring about school desegregation while courts in the South continue to issue new rulings in support of the controversial issue.

The latest action came as the first week of classes, virtually free from disruptions, winds up for some Southern schools.

Most of the schools open next week.

The Alabama House with some firm nudging from Gov. George Wallace, enacted the measure Thursday. It prohibits busing if parents determine it would jeopardize their children's health or education. The vote was 92-7. Approval by the State Senate is expected.

Another opponent of busing, Lt. Gov. Lester Maddox of Georgia, declared Thursday he is willing to be imprisoned if that's what it takes to resist "the death grip which the federal police state has on public education."

But Georgia Gov. Jimmy Carter, in the meantime, didn't seem willing to carry the torch. Carter said he felt parents and public officials should press their opposition in an orderly manner regarding busing, but added he does not favor defiance of the law. "I'm not in favor of Southern governors going to jail," Carter said.

Florida Gov. Reubin Askew also softened the issue, announcing Thursday he opposes calling a constitutional convention for the purpose of prohibiting busing.

Askew, faced with strong anti-busing sentiments from the Duval County School Board, which is under federal court order to bus about 75,000 pupils, earlier called on Floridians to put aside "the emotions of the

The men of the Hope Kiwanis Club will don their aprons and chefs' caps Friday, September 10, 1971, and prepare to serve hundreds of Southwest Arkansas residents at their annual Pancake Supper to be held on that date from 5 to 7:30 p.m. in the Hope High School Cafeteria, adjacent to Hammons Stadium.

This annual affair is the second of two fund raising projects sponsored by the local club. The other project is the Kiwanis Varieties Show put on each spring. Both events are used to provide funds for the Youth work engaged in by the Hope Kiwanis Club. None of the monies raised in these events are ever used for general operation of the club. They are used to provide scholarships for deserving students, to provide assistance to underprivileged children, and to support many worthwhile projects growing out of this club's interest in youth activities.

Tickets for the Pancake Supper are $1.25 each and are on sale at the Citizens National Bank, First National Bank, Hope Federal Savings and Loan Association, and Anderson-Frazier Insurance Agency, as well as from any member of the Hope Kiwanis Club.

This date was chosen for the Pancake Supper this year because it happens to be the first home game for the Hope Bobcats, who meet the Prescott Curly Wolves that night at 7:30 in Hammons Stadium. Attending the Pancake Supper and the football game will not only give you an evening of relaxation and entertainment, but will give you an opportunity to help in providing financial aid to young people worthy of your assistance through the auspices of the Hope Kiwanis Club.

Tickets will be on sale at the door of the cafeteria, also.

hour" and accept busing as a temporary way of halting racial discrimination.

Most battles over busing and integration plans were being fought in court or through political channels. Complaining school systems, however, didn't appear to be receiving much sympathy.

The 4th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals on Thursday ordered Norfolk, Va., to operate its schools under a new plan requiring the busing of 18,000 pupils.

Norfolk school authorities promptly postponed "indefinitely" the scheduled opening of schools next Tuesday, pending an appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court.

In Tennessee, the loudest objections to federal integration orders were raised in Nashville, where a request by school authorities to stay a school busing order was denied by Supreme Court Justice Potter Stewart.

Light Action Only in the Vietnam War

By GEORGE ESPER Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — No major ground action was reported across South Vietnam today, but North Vietnamese gunners hit allied bases along the demilitarized zone with three light shelling attacks.

The shelling wounded some South Vietnamese soldiers, but the number was not disclosed.

U.S. B52 bombers flew a dozen more strikes inside the southern half of the DMZ and to the south of the zone. The big bombers dropped more than 350 tons of explosives on suspected troop positions and rocket and mortar batteries.

The U.S. destroyer Edson and the Australian destroyer Brisbane also fired at suspected rocket and mortar sites in the southern half of the DMZ. The Navy reported that the destroyers' five-inch guns triggered 11 secondary explosions, indicating hits on either the rocket and mortar sites or ammunition stored nearby.

More than 200 miles northwest of the DMZ, the North Vietnamese were battling their worst floods since the end of World War II. Communist China's three top leaders—Chairman Mao Tse-tung, Vice Chairman Lin Biao and Premier Chou En-lai—sent Hanoi a message pledging "everything possible" in the way of support and assistance.

The floods along the Red and Thai Binh rivers were first reported Thursday, but no details of the damage have been given. Today Nhan Dan, the newspaper of the North Vietnamese Communist party, said the people are waging "a very urgent fight" and added: "Natural calamities have caused some losses and difficulties to the people and social activities in a number of places."

There has been no indication that the floods are in any way responsible for the slackening of enemy attacks since the "high point" of increased attacks last week during the National Assembly elections in South Vietnam. But Nhan Dan said "neither natural calamities nor destruction by the enemy could damp up our march forward" in the war.

In Phnom Penh, the Cambodian command said two Cambodian units trapped a North Vietnamese force 55 miles northeast of the capital Thursday, and about 100 of the enemy were killed or wounded in an all-day battle. The command said armored personnel carriers and allied planes accounted for most of the dead, and 25 enemy bodies were found on the battlefield.

Two Cambodian soldiers were reported killed and six wounded.

The Cambodian units were part of a 20,000-man force that is pressing an offensive drive along about 20 miles of Highway 6, from Taing Kauk, 47 miles northeast of Phnom Penh, to Kompong Thmar, 65 miles northeast of the capital.

Council Plans Clear Teacher Pay Ruling

By PEGGY SIMPSON Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Cost of Living Council planned today to refine its ruling on teacher pay. But no backdown from earlier restrictions was expected, despite rising protests from teachers that they deserve special exemptions from the wage-price freeze.

A council source said today's ruling will clarify—but not substantially alter—previous guidelines.

"If a teacher could accrue pay before the freeze, he can get the wage increase," the source said. "If he didn't start teaching until Sept. 1 but started drawing back pay to Aug. 1—or was eligible to—he can get the scheduled increase. If not, he can't."

He said quibbling about whether 20 per cent or 80 per cent of the nation's 2.17 million teachers will get the pay hikes they anticipated this fall is beside the point.

"The idea is to have a ruling that is consistent across the board with other workers, prices and rents—and let the chips fall where they may," he said.

The council conferred Thursday night with U.S. Education Commissioner Sidney Marland to tighten up language which had led to varying interpretations on which teachers would get raises during the 90-day freeze.

The National Education Association had said as many as 80 per cent of the nation's teachers would qualify for raises during the freeze. But the council said it could not make an estimate.

But on Wednesday, Treasury Undersecretary Charles E. Walker told congressmen: "The interpretation in the press that most teacher pay increases will be permitted is incorrect," he said.

The American Federation of Teachers said Thursday it will support walkouts by its 250,000 members if salary raises—including scheduled yearly increments—are held up. But AFT President David Seldon stopped short of advocating strikes. He appealed to President Nixon to delay the Aug. 15 effective date of the freeze to Sept. 15 where teachers are concerned.

And NEA said any school board that refuses to pay negotiated raises may face arbitration or a breach-of-contract suit.

Guardsman Cut Down in Ireland

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — Gunfire from a speeding car cut down a national guardsman at a police border station today. He was the 18th soldier to die this year in Northern Ireland.

The guardsman was serving with the British army at Kinawley between Northern Ireland and the Irish Republic. An army spokesman said the gunman's car escaped over the border a few miles away.

In Londonderry, a sniper shot a British major in the stomach Thursday at the end of a day of terror in this province.

Maj. Robin Aiers-Hankey, 35, was reported in critical condition today. He was the first field-grade officer seriously wounded since British troops were sent to Northern Ireland two years ago to intervene between the battling Protestants and Roman Catholics.

Aiers-Hankey was shot at midnight as his troops were firing rubber bullets to protect firemen in Londonderry against a mob of youths. The army said the youths set fire to an abandoned building with gasoline bombs, then stoned the firemen fighting the blaze.

Thursday's terror began with a noontime bombing in the heart of Belfast that broke every window in the three-story headquarters of Northern Ireland's ruling Protestant Unionist party and wrecked three dozen cars in an adjoining multi-story car park building.

Other tidbits of interest from Mary's ecological catalog:

—The estimated world polar bear population has dropped from 20,000 in 1960 to 8,000 in 1970. Although these magnificent remnants of survival in the northland are symbols of ferocity, too, they have a hard time growing up. They weigh about a pound at birth and stay with their mothers until 2 years old.

—And if you want to give your cockroach-haunted wife an unusual present for her birthday, why not a Pomeranian as a pet? These three-to-five-pound dogs were bred down from 30 pound sheep-guarding ancestors in Germany. But Mary says the herding instincts in Pomeranians is still so strong that they try to herd bugs.

Historical Facts About

LABOR DAY

In 1882, Peter McGuire, co-founder of the American Federation of Labor suggested that one day a year be designated "Labor Day" and proposed the first Monday in September. Labor Day was celebrated in New York City that same year and by 1884, 24 states had adopted a similar holiday. At that time, Congress passed an act making it official for all states and territories.

Next Monday is Labor Day, a time to take stock of our industrial strength and pay tribute to the American worker who has helped to make our standard of living the envy of the world. To these people, we say "THANKS" for a wonderful job, well done.

Actor Owner of Lighthouse

CAPE ELIZABETH, Maine (AP) — Actor Gary Merrill now is the proud owner of a lighthouse. Merrill has signed papers giving him possession of one of the historic "Two Lights" on the rocky Cape Elizabeth shore. Merrill bought the so-called "West Light," which was abandoned by the government in 1924. He said he intends to remodel it into a year-round home.

Questions, Answers About SS

If you have any questions regarding social security, send them to the Social Security Office, Box 1319, Texarkana, Texas 75501 Attention: Glenda Bozeman

Q. I have been widowed for two years and am suffering from arthritis. How ill must I be to qualify for disabled widow's benefits?

A. Your illness must be expected to last 12 months or more, or result in death. In addition, your illness must prevent you from doing any work for income. Q. I have been told by some people that I will not be able to draw social security benefits for six months from the time I became ill. Is this true?

A. Social security cannot make any disability payment until a full six months has elapsed from the time a person becomes disabled. Notice, however, the six month waiting period starts when a person becomes disabled, not when he or she files a claim.

Q. Can I draw a disabled widow's benefit? I am 29 years old and have been widowed for four years.

A. No. A disabled widow must be between the ages of 50 and 60 to qualify for a disability benefit on the record of her deceased spouse. Therefore, you would not be eligible at this time.

Q. I am drawing disability benefits at the present time. Do I need to take any action if I should return to work in the future?

A. Yes. Disability benefits are paid on the condition that the recipient is unable to do substantial work. Therefore, any return to work should be reported immediately to your social security office.

Q. How much work must I have under social security to qualify for a disability benefit? I am 49 years old.

A. Present law requires that you have five years of work out of the ten years immediately preceding the date you became disabled. This work must be covered under social security.

Appalachian Schools Have Big Problems

By JANET STAIHAR
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP)

Schools in rural Appalachia are plagued by inefficiencies, isolationism, and low taxable properties, a specialist on education in the 13-state area said today.

Dr. Eugene G. Hoyt, director of the Appalachian Regional Commission's education staff, told a Senate hearing in prepared testimony that health services for rural school youngsters "at best are scarce" but all too often are non-existent.

"Of 100 fifth graders," he said, "fewer than half remain in school to graduate seven years later in the most rural of Appalachian counties."

To solve this and other educational dilemmas, Hoyt proposes regionalization—combining two or more school districts' capabilities to provide a service one could not provide efficiently by itself.

Hoyt said the first-grade failure rate in some Appalachian sections is 50 per cent.

Speaking at the final session of three days of hearings before the Select Committee on Equal Educational Opportunity, Hoyt said per-pupil expenditures in Appalachia are far below the national average. In some cases, he said, the amount is only half the national average.

Hoyt also told the committee, which is looking into problems of rural schools, that teachers' salaries in Appalachia are as much as $2,000 a year below the national average.

"Many rural teachers regard teaching as a second income, not as a profession," he declared.

And, Hoyt said, over half the rural Appalachian high schools cannot be accredited by regional authorities because of academic deficiencies.

In advocating regionalization, Hoyt said the move would enable school systems to get together under the ARC's regional education service agency to acquire more technological aids such as educational television systems, testing centers and federal grants.

In addition, Hoyt said, savings on school equipment and supplies can be as much as 25 per cent when the needs of individual districts are pooled and bid in larger quantities.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — When Walt Disney died, the film industry wondered openly if the entertainment empire he built and ruled so successfully would change, if not deteriorate. Now it is obvious that Disney was not only a creative man but a good executive and foresighted planner.

In the television area alone, his "Wonderful World of Disney" soon will start its 18th consecutive season, the oldest program in network prime-time, and a Sunday night family institution.

"Even we at the studio wondered how the public would react," said Ron Miller, the Disney son-in-law who is in charge of the television production. "But he had thought ahead. We are a team here but we constantly ask ourselves how Walt Disney would handle this or that."

The NBC program consists of dependably wholesome entertainment, inevitably a rotation of handsome nature studies, youth-oriented adventure films and some short animated features. It has been that way from its beginnings on ABC when the program was launched, partly as a subtle promotion scheme for Disney's then-new California amusement park.

Because of its huge audience of children, the series is able to function in a thrifty way impossible for the other producers of weekly series.

The Disney method is to take a motion picture that has made the theater rounds, cut it into TV-length segments and run it as two or three programs. After the usual summer rerun, it goes back into the Disney vault to wait four or five years for a new audience of kids—then it is run again.

At the moment the Disney hour is in the midst of showing a 1958 theatrical film, originally broadcast in 1962 and again in 1966. Almost one third of each season's programs is out of the vault.

"We never use our long animated features on television," Miller said. "We just hold them for a few years and send them out to the theaters again—for that new audience. We'll be using 'Pinocchio' again soon, and

Send your teenage questions to YOUTH ASKED for it, care of Helen Help Us! this newspaper.

A BUSY, BUSY MAN

Dear Helen:
A man in our neighborhood is married and has 14 children, all living at home. He also has a girl friend, and two children by her. He tells people who don't know better that he's married to the younger woman, as he spends most of his time at her place, including nights.

My problem is, should I tell the wife her husband is playing around? She has heard rumors but no facts. I'm not a close friend, but I hate to stand by and watch these goings-on.

People say you don't really use letters from readers, but just make up your own. Now we'll see. —WANTS TO HELP

Dear WTH:
Why make up my own when readers provide true stories that boggle the imagination?

My suggestion? Stay on the sidelines. The wife already knows as much as she wants to know—and maybe she wants a rest. —H.

Dear Helen:

We live in a nice neighborhood and have no trouble except for one thing. The lady next door gives piano lessons. Students are delivered and picked up four times per hour all day. Usually young members of the families are chauffeurs. Do they sit quietly or go to the door and knock! No! They blow their horns, and keep right on blowing

"Mary Poppins" will be resubmitted in 1973."

Miller says that, over-all, the program's nature studies, most made specifically for television use, are the most popular. While the series is usually up high in the ratings, it frequently jumps up to the top of the list as its two-part "Snow Bear" did this past season.

until the young painists come out.

This makes it impossible for us to nap, or get babies to sleep in the daytime, we're in a cul-de-sac where the horn blowers are right under our windows.

What is it about a young person and a car horn? And how can we get them to stop? —NEIGHBORS

Dear Neighbors:
Have you asked your neighbor to cooperate? Surely she would send notes home by her students, or put a "No honking" sign in her parking area.

(If you haven't asked, you aren't unusual. It's amazing how people will write to a columnist three thousands miles away for help with a problem they could easily solve via a few friendly words over the backyard fence.) —H.

Dear Helen:

You're right: Bicycle thefts are outdistancing home burglaries these days. One of the reasons for this way of thefts is the attitude of the courts when a thief is apprehended. Seldom is there a jail sentence. In the majority of "arrests" the charge is reduced to "joy-riding," which carries a slap on the wrist penalty. This atmosphere of leniency is well known to professionals. What's a simple "misdemeanor" to them?

My suggestion is for the courts and judges to crack down hard and quit worrying about the "rights" of thieves. —JAY

Dear Helen:

Stolen bikes? Just go to the police station. You'll find them stacked story-high, waiting to be auctioned off. Smart people don't have to buy new ones, or "hot bikes." They just bid in. —OLA

Dear Ola:

Another good place to find newer, more expensive models, moderately priced, is at your local insurance agency, which sometimes keeps the recovered bicycle after paying the insurance's claim. —H.

Dear Helen:

"Grandpa" age 16, who was going gray already, should take Vitamin C. A woman friend in her late 40s took it for colds and in the process discovered all her gray hair had disappeared. Wouldn't it do any harm to try. —

When Sheriff's Deputy Willard Dillon of the mounted park patrol dismounted the other day, his horse wandered away.

Several blocks away, Lloyd Gibbs found the horse, complete with two-way radio on the saddle. Picking up the microphone, Gibbs chatted with a dispatcher who ordered officers to reunite Dillon with his steed.

Bobcats Are Ready for Ashdown

By BILL MOORE

Time goes quickly, the zero hour nears, the tension mounts, and the Hope Bobcats have only one thing on the mind tonight at eight o'clock—BEAT ASH-DOWN!

For 16 seniors it will be their last high school career game against the Panthers, whom they have not beaten in two years of their career, losing 14-6 and 28-14. Will this be the year they erase that stumbling block? No one will know until the last second has ticked off ending the game.

This game has been rated as one of the best dozen games in the state, and with the rivalry that has grown over the last few years the game should prove to be very bruising until the end.

Tonight Hope fans will see what kind of a ball club the Bobcats are going to have this season—and I'm betting they won't be disappointed.

Connors and Evert Score Net Victories

By KAROL STONGER

Associated Press Sports Writer FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — Chris Evert and Jimmy Connors, two lean, lanky and light-haired teen-agers, scored their first-round victories in the U.S. Open Tennis Championships with the aid of powerful two-handed backhands. "I learned mine from Pancho Segura," said the 19-year-old Connors after he struggled for 2½ hours on the grandstand court to overcome former Wimbledon winner Alex Olmedo 2-6, 5-7, 64, 7-5, 7-5.

"My father taught me to play two-handed when I was six years old," said the 16-year-old Miss Evert after her stunning 6-1, 6-0 triumph over Edda Buding of West Germany.

Miss Evert, the surprise in the U.S. Wightman Cup victory over England last month, made her West Side Tennis Club debut on the center court after earlier in the day top-seeded Billie Jean King disposed of a stand-in opponent in just 30 minutes and Tom Gorman conceded his match after spraining his right ankle.

Mrs. King, of Long Beach, Calif., crushed Jeanne Arth of St. Paul, Minn., 6-0, 6-1 and Ion Tiriac, the Romanian Davis Cup player, moved into the second round after Gorman withdrew at 5-5 in the third set. Gorman had won the first 7-5 and Tiriac the second 6-4.

"The doctor bandaged his ankle on the court and I told him to take all the time he wanted to rest because he had a better chance to go further in this tourney than I have," said Tiriac after Gorman, of Seattle, Wash., conceded.

Connors learned tennis from his mother, Gloria, on the clay courts behind their East St. Louis, Ill., home as soon as he was old enough to walk.

Miss Evert of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., was coached by her pro father, Jim, from the time she was six. Miss Evert still relies on her father's guidance but Connors' recent influence has been from two Panchos—Gonzales and Segura.

Connors, whose victory came on his birthday, said that youth was in his corner, even though at one time he was two points from defeat.

Porkers Plan Scrimmage Saturday

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The Arkansas Razorbacks held a light workout in the rain Thursday.

"We shortened and lightened practice and we will do it again Friday," said Coach Frank Broyles. "We're trying to get ready for Saturday's scrimmage."

The Porkers plan a full scrimmage here Saturday afternoon.

Broyles said the offensive unit worked on passing and running execution against the freshman defensive unit.

Some of the Razorback players were still a little sluggish Thursday as a result of a virus that has made its rounds among the team members.

Coach Raymond Barry missed Thursday's practice. He was out with a virus.

Fort Macy Starts on Racing Road

By TED MEIER

Associated Press Sports Writer Fort Macy starts on the road this holiday weekend that his owner, Paul Mellon, and trainer Elliott Burch hope again will make him Horse of the Year.

The seven-year-old gelding, No. 7 on the equine millionaire's list with earnings of $1,106,406, goes in the Kelly-Olympic Handicap over the grass course at Atlantic City Saturday.

The $30,000 Kelly-Olympic is a stepping stone for the $125,000 United Nations Handicap at the New Jersey seashore track Sept. 18.

Last year Fort Macy finished second in the Kelly-Olympic, then went on to win the UN, Man o'War at Belmont and the Washington, D.C. International at Laurel to become the 1970 Horse of the Year.

Other headlines on the start of the Labor Day weekend are the $50,000 Gazette Handicap at Belmont, the $30,000 Sun Beau Handicap at Hawthorne, the $25,000 Rosemont Stakes at Delaware apk and the $20,000 Esccondido Handicap at Del Mar.

Also scheduled are the $10,000 Rainbow Handicap at Rockingham, the $15,000 feature at Bay Meadows and the $5,000 Providence Handicap on the opening day card at Narragansett Park.

Fort Macy, a son of Amerigo-Key Bridge, hasn't won in seven starts this year although he has finished second four times. He will carry top weight of 128 pounds in the Kelly Olympic and will have a running mate in Run The Gantlet.

Other expected starters include War Censor, Red Reality, Chomption, Tudor Reward, Mister Diz, Matto Grosso II and Stop Time. Drumtop, the mare who beat Fort Macy in the bowling Green, is a possibility.

Lolich Posts 22nd Win for Detroit

By BERT ROSENTHAL

Associated Press Sports Writer Billy Martin, Detroit's sly, witty manager, jokingly calls Mickey Lolich "the best left-hander pot-bellied pitcher I've got."

Lolich says, "I don't mind people saying that I'm pot-bellied or fat. People joke about it in the papers when I'm winning, but what I don't like is when I lose they sort of twist things around and make me look bad by calling me out-of-shape, a slob or things like that. I don't like that."

Lolich has not had to worry much this season about unkind remarks. Most of his press has been good. After all, he has won 22 games—only one less than major league leader Vida Blue of Oakland—and lost just 10.

The veteran southpaw posted his 22nd victory—most by a Tiger left-hander since 1946 when Hal Newhouser won 26—with a six-hitter Wednesday night as Detroit whipped the Cleveland Indians 7-0.

In the only other American League night game, the New York Yankees routed Washington 11-1. In the afternoon, Boston blanked Baltimore 3-0, and Milwaukee edged Kansas City 1-0.

In the National League, Houston trounced Los Angeles 9-3; the New York Mets defeated Philadelphia 3-1, and Montreal beat the Chicago Cubs 9-5.

Lolich, who works every fourth day, said he thinks he has a chance of catching or passing Blue, who pitches every fifth day, in both victories and strikeouts. Lolich said he figures to make seven more starts to only five for the fireballing A's left-hander.

Lolich also is within reach of several Detroit records, including the 29 victories for a Tiger left-hander, set by Newhouser in 1944; the 44 starts made in a season, by George Mullin in 1940; the 381 innings pitched by Mullin in 1940 and the 280 strikeouts by Denny McLain in 1968.

Lolich's start against Cleveland was his 38th of the season and increased his innings pitched to 319—tops in the majors. He struck out six for a total of 265, nine behind Blue's major league high of 274. It was his 23rd complete game—tying him with Blue for the AL lead—and his third shutout.

Bill Freehan and Norm Cash provided the major batting support for Lolich. Freehan drove in three runs with his 18th homer, a single and a sacrifice fly. Cash knocked in two runs with a triple and a single.

The Yanks scored all their runs against Washington in the first two innings, getting four in the first and seven in the second.

Singles by Thurman Munson and Bobby Murcer, two walks, two passed balls by Dick Billings, an error, a wild pitch and a run-scoring grounder produced the runs in the opening inning.

In the second, consecutive singles by Horace Clarke, Munson, Murcer and Roy White accounted for two runs, before Felipe Alou blasted his seventh homer of the season. Clarke, who started the outburst, capped it with a two-run double.

Meanwhile, Stan Bahnsen held the Senators to four hits for his 11th victory.

Milwaukee managed only one hit off Kansas City's Mike Hedlund and Bruce Dal Canton, but pushed across a run in the second inning without a hit in edging the Royals.

The Brewers scored when Jose Cardenal was hit by a pitch, moved to second on a walk, took third on a fielder's choice and came home on Tom Matchick's grounder.

Hedlund, who had tied a Kansas City record by winning his previous four starts, gave up Milwaukee's only hit—a line drive single by Ron Theobald in the third inning.

Marty Pattin blanked the Royals on five hits for his fifth shutout of the season—and his 20th for the Brewers' staff. He did not allow a runner past second base.

Sonny Siebert drove in Boston's three runs with two homers—his fifth and sixth of the season—and shackled Baltimore on three hits for his 15th victory. His first since July 21, Siebert, a former outfielder, hit a solo homer in the third and a two-run shot in the fifth.

Inside Park Grand Slam Licks Dodgers

By BRUCE LOWITT

Associated Press Sports Writer "I don't know what else you could call it," Houston Manger Harry Walker commented. It wasn't an error. If it had been just a single or a double nobody would have gotten very excited about it."

Bob Watson of the Astros knew exactly what to call it. "That's the all-time salami!" he laughed.

But the official scorer put it differently, marking "HR, 3 on" next to Cesar Cedeno's name.

The bases-loaded home run, Cedeno's first grand slam in his two years in the major leagues, traveled barely 150 feet in the air, then rolled another 200 or so to the wall.

Nevertheless, the "blast," Cedeno's ninth homer of the year, was the big one for the Astros Thursday night, catapulting them to a 9-3 victory over Los Angeles that dropped the Dodgers 8½ games behind the San Francisco in the National League West.

In the only other two National League games, Montreal defeated the Chicago Cubs 9-5 and the New York Mets beat Philadelphia 3-1. In the American League's four contests, Boston blanked Baltimore 3-0, Milwaukee nipped Kansas City 1-0, the New York Yankees bombed Washington 11-1 and Detroit dumped Cleveland 7-0.

Claude Osteen of the Dodgers was trying to protect a 3-2 lead when he loaded the bases with two out in the fifth inning on two walks around Marty Martinez' single.

Up came Cedeno—and up went the ball, arcing toward right field. Out went second baseman Jim Lefebvre and in came outfielder Bill Buckner. They collided just as the ball brushed off the tip of Lefebvre's outstretched glove and Cedeno steamed around the bases unmolested.

"Not too many guys hit grand slams—and not too many hit inside-the-park homers either," Cedeno grinned. "I'm glad I did."

Dartmouth Favored Along East

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Few, if any, college football coaches have ever had a tougher act to follow than Jake Crouthamel, Dartmouth's new mentor.

In 16 seasons before he packed up and headed for Illinois, Bob Blackman compiled a record of 104-37-3 at the Hanover, N.H., school, including all or part of seven Ivy League titles and two Lambert Trophies.

Last year's mark was 9-0, including six shutouts from a defense masterminded by Crouthamel.

On paper, one would think Crouthamel would have to concentrate on both offense and defense, since Dartmouth lost eight starters from each platoon. However, most of last year's games were routs so the reserves got plenty of playing time.

With those experienced reserves joining such holdovers as tackle Joe Leslie, halfback Brendan O'Neill and fullback Stu Simms on offense and end Fred Radke, Linebacker Wayne Young and halfback Jack Manning on defense, the Indians should be in the battle again for Ivy laurels. Harvard, Yale, Princeton and Cornell are supposed to be the chief challengers, although Penn, Brown and Columbia have hopes for improvement.

Whether Dartmouth can make off with another Lambert Trophy is a different story. Most of the experts consign the Eastern race as a struggle between Syracuse and Penn State—they meet Oct. 16 at Syracuse—followed by Boston College and Pitt.

Syracuse had its problems a year ago. Eight black players boycotted the team, but following a disastrous 0-3 start the Orangemen rebounded to finish 6-4. That kind of football is expected to carry over into 1971, with 16 starters among 34 returning lettermen.

But the Orange got a scare this week when Greg Allen, one of the blacks involved in the boycott who since came back, came down with hepatitis, forcing gamma globulin shots on the entire squad.

Syracuse's strength starts with defense, where tackle Joe Ehrmann, middle guard Ted Lachowicz and safety Tom Myers hold forth. The offense is set, provided holdover reserve Bob Woodruff or one of three sophomores comes through at quarterback.

Up front, large tackle Dan Yochum will be opening the holes for power runners Marty Januszkievicz and Roger Praetorius.

Penn State wound up 1970 with five consecutive victories, all after Coach Joe Paterno gave the quarterback job to sophomore John Huftagel. Now a junior, Huftagel directs an attack which features two of the better running backs around in Franco Harris and Lydell Mitchell.

Tackle Dave Joyner is the big man up front, while the defensive strength is in the line-backing corps of Charlie Zupiec, Gary Gray, Doug Allen and John Skorupin.

Boston College 1st "some very important people at the skilled offensive positions," according to Coach Joe Yukica, referring to quarterback Frank Harris and halfback Fred Willis. If backup QB Ray Rippman and running back Bill Thomas can do the job, the Eagles could fly high again.

Defense will be the key, however, spearheaded by tackle Jeff Yeates, linebacker Kevin Clemente and backs Steve Kirchner and Gary Hudson.

Pitt ended a downtrodden spell by returning to the .500 level. Actually, the Panthers were 5-1 at one point before injuries overtook them.

BILL TALBERT, former U.S. Davis Cup star, shown here in a 1942 photo, has joined with Pancho Gonzales to organize a celebrity tournament designed to give a popularity boost to tennis.

Travelers Wiped Out by Memphis

MEMPHIS (AP) — The Memphis Blues came up with a four-run eighth inning to blank the Arkansas Travelers 4-0 Thursday night.

The rally wiped out a tight pitching duel between Traveler Jessie Huggins and Tommy Shephard, who battled scorelessly through 7½ innings.

Huggins suffered his first loss in five decisions. He scattered only three hits during the first seven innings.

The Blues have now taken both games of the current series, but Arkansas will try to salvage the final game tonight. The Travelers, who have clinched the Central Division title in the Dixie Association, return home Saturday to close out the regular season in a three-game series with Shreveport.

In other Dixie action, Albuquerque split a doubleheader with Amarillo, winning the first game 3-0, but dropping the nightcap 1-0; Dallas-Fort Worth took two from San Antonio, 2-1 and 3-2; Jacksonville edged Sacramento 2-1.

Syracuse's strength starts with defense, where tackle Joe Ehrmann, middle guard Ted Lachowicz and safety Tom Myers hold forth. The offense is set, provided holdover reserve Bob Woodruff or one of three sophomores comes through at quarterback.

NBA Hardship Cases Number Six Players

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Tom Payne, 7-foot-2 center who had been expected to star for the University of Kentucky basketball team next season, will play the game as a professional instead.

Payne was one of six players declared eligible by the National Basketball Association Wednesday for the NBA's supplementary draft Sept. 10 of players declared hardship cases.

The other five players, announced by commissioner Walter Kennedy of the NBA, were 6-10 Cyril Baptiste, Creighton University; 6-9 Ed Owens of Weber State who played two seasons ago for Southern Utah; 6-5 Nate Williams, Utah State star; 6-4 Philip Chenier of California and 6-3 Joseph Hammond, who has been playing in the Eastern pro League. Hammond had to apply for the supplementary draft because his class could not graduate until 1972 if he had gone to college.

Payne said he had applied because his wife, Sue, had been in poor health and that she and their 16-month-old daughter, Crystal, often had deprived themselves while he was in school.

Kennedy declined to reveal how many players had applied to be listed as a "hardship case" and also if any had been turned down.

The Greensboro, N.C. Daily News reported that Tom McMillen, heralded 6-11 sophomore at the University of Maryland, had applied, but had been turned down.

Officials at Maryland where McMillen starred as a frosh last season, were not available for comment.

The Greensboro Daily News story also said that McMillen had applied to the rival American Basketball Association to be listed in the hardship category.

Kennedy said that Cleveland would get first pick in the supplementary NBA draft. Buffalo is next, followed by Portland, Cincinnati, Atlanta, Seattle, Houston, Golden State, Baltimore, Boston, Detroit, Philadelphia, Los Angeles, Phoenix, Chicago, New York and Milwaukee. Any team making a pick must surrender its corresponding choice in the 1972 regular draft.

"Payne and Baptiste are the only players we are giving second or third thoughts about drafting," commented the Cleveland coach, Bill Fitch. "They are the two biggest guys and that's what we are looking for, a guy who can jump with Lew Alcindor."

Fitch indicated the Cavaliers might make a trade for their No. 1 spot.

Leader Laver
Australian lefty Rod Laver has already won more than $200,000 on the pro tennis tour this year, putting him far ahead of his nearest competition, Tom Okker of the Netherlands, who is still far short of the $100,000 mark.

Helms Hall
Former backfield standout Charley Trippi and the late Vince Lombardi have been named to the United Savings-Helms Athletic Foundation Major League Football Hall of Fame.

Odds Against Nebraska to Repeat

By ODELL HANSON
LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — The odds against consecutive national football championships have to be rated about the same as those against successive no-hitters in baseball, but Nebraska's Cornhuskers appear ready to make a solid bid for another No. 1 national grid ranking.

"It will be a tough chore, but a tremendous challenge and one we eagerly accept," says Coach Bob Devaney, beginning his 10th season as Nebraska's head man.

Thirty-eight lettermen from last year's undefeated team, including 13 starters, form the nucleus of the 1971 squad.

And if there's a major weakness in the new gridiron machine, it has not yet become grossly apparent, although Devaney has worried publicly about developing reserves who can give depth to his offensive line and his defensive backfield.

A victory over Louisiana State in the Orange Bowl, while Texas and Ohio State were losing their bowl tests, propelled Nebraska into the No. 1 spot last season. The 11-0-1 record also brought the Huskers their sixth Big Eight Conference title in eight years, ran the Husker undefeated string to 19 games and brought President Nixon to Lincoln to present personally his own recognition plaque.

"Unfortunately," says Devaney, "none of last year's games can count in this year's standings."

The 1971 Nebraska team gets its first test here Sept. 11 against Oregon, noted as one of the stronger clubs in the Pacific Eight Conference this season.

Subsequent foes, in order, are Minnesota, Texas A & M, Utah State, Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma State, Colorado, Iowa State, Kansas State, Oklahoma and Hawaii. Seven of the 12 games will be played before sellout crowds of around 65,000 at the home Memorial Stadium.

Offensively, despite the departure of standout running back Joe Ornduna and Split End Guy Ingles, the Huskers appear about as potent as last year when they averaged 410 yards and 37 points a game.

At quarterback, there's an embarrassment of riches.

Jerry Tagge and Van Brownson, who have alternated as quarterback starters for two years, have returned to further rewrite the Nebraska record book. But they are being challenged by a sophomore, Dave Humm, a Las Vegas prize who led the frosh to an undefeated season last year.

Humm, a left-hander, appears destined for stardom but could be red shirted if Tagge and Brownson remain healthy.

Key figures also in the Husker attack are I-Back Jeff Kinney, who alternated with Ornduna last year, and Flanker Johnny Rodgers, leading receiver as a sophomore last year and one of the most exciting breakaway threats developed by Devaney in the decade.

The defensive team, traditionally dubbed "Black Shirts," could be the best in Devaney's tenure here, despite the graduation loss of All-America line-backer Jerry Murtaugh and three other starters.

Leading the seven returning defensive starters is Larry Jacobson, 6-6, 250-pound tackle who starred last year and is regarded as a solid All-America candidate this year. Other returnees include Ends Willie Harper and John Adkins, Linebacker Bob Terrio, and backs Joe Blahak, Jim Anderson and Bill Kosch.

Young Bowlers
The American Junior Bowling Congress began its 25th anniversary season Aug. 1, headed for a third straight record membership year. The AJBC signed up 610,888 youngsters for the 1970-71 season, breaking the record set during the 1969-70 campaign.

Top Coaches
Don McCafferty of the Baltimore Colts has the best lifetime pro coaching record among NFL coaches on the basis of his 11-2-1 (.846) championship season last year in his rookie campaign. John Madden of Oakland is second with 20-5-3 (.800).

Don Shula of Miami third at 81-27-4 (.750) and George Allen of Washington fourth at 49-17-4. Buffalo's Harvey Johnson has the worst mark. 1-10-1 (.091).

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

The word fan, referring to an enthusiast over sports or other entertainment is believed to be a contraction of the word fanatic, according to The World Almanac. Before 1900 the owner of the old St. Louis Browns referred to a man as a baseball fanatic. Newspaper headline writers shortened the term to fan.

Opening lead—♠ K

By Oswald & James Jacoby

The peculiar bidding of today's hand is not due to the fact that it was played at New York's Cavendish Club back in 1931, but rather that the late Edward Hynes Jr., who sat West, wanted to get doubled at the lowest contract possible and that the late Willard S. Karn, who sat South, wanted to keep Eddy from going too far with his spades.

Eventually, Willard went to six hearts and Eddy decided to double. He was not at all surprised when his spade lead was ruffed, but he didn't like seeing that ace-queen of diamonds in dummy.

Willard led a trump to dummy at trick two; ruffed a spade at trick three; and then led the innocent little three of diamonds.

Eddy was not impressed by the innocence of that three spot. He studied and finally envisioned the exact hand Willard did hold. In that case it became apparent that Willard was going to ruff out all dummy's spades and then throw Eddy in with the king of diamonds to force a club lead.

Then, Eddy proceeded to foil this plan. He played his jack of diamonds, not the four spot! Later he played the king of diamonds on the second diamond lead and the slam died on the vine.

♠ A K 8 7 ♥ K Q 9 4 ♦ 6 ♣ K Q 7 5

What do you do now?

A—Just bid four spades. You may miss slam, but any bid beyond game would be dangerous.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of bidding three spades your partner has bid one no-trump over your one spade. What do you do now?

Answer Tomorrow

The yard, as a measurement, was supposed to be equal to the length of the arm of the English king, Henry I.

DR. LAWRENCE E. LAMB

Local Infection Not 'Blood Poisoning'

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb — Would you please tell me what to do to stop having blood poisoning so often? I have had it three times in the last two months.

Could the liver have anything to do with it?

Sores do not heal fast. It takes a week for a scratch to heal.

Dear Reader—Blood poisoning means a lot of different things to people. Strictly speaking, blood poisoning means infectious agents in the bloodstream circulating throughout the body. Normally, the blood kills organisms, but some are strong enough to withstand the body's normal defense mechanisms. We call an infection of the blood a "septicemia"—sepsis in the blood. This may not produce any external signs of an infection in terms of swelling or red streaks on the skin.

An infected tooth may, for example, release bacteria into the bloodstream. If a person has a damaged heart valve, this can cause bacterial endocarditis—bacterial inflammation of the inside of the heart. Then bacteria may be released into the bloodstream.

Many people call a local infection of the finger, hand or elsewhere "blood poisoning" when it gets red and if there are red marks extending out from the infection. These red streaks are inflamed lymph vessels in most instances. It does not mean that bacteria are circulating in the bloodstream throughout the body, as in

with his spades.

Eventually, Willard went to six hearts and Eddy decided to double. He was not at all surprised when his spade lead was ruffed, but he didn't like seeing that ace-queen of diamonds in dummy.

Willard led a trump to dummy at trick two; ruffed a spade at trick three; and then led the innocent little three of diamonds.

Eddy was not impressed by the innocence of that three spot. He studied and finally envisioned the exact hand Willard did hold. In that case it became apparent that Willard was going to ruff out all dummy's spades and then throw Eddy in with the king of diamonds to force a club lead.

Then, Eddy proceeded to foil this plan. He played his jack of diamonds, not the four spot! Later he played the king of diamonds on the second diamond lead and the slam died on the vine.

VIOLATIONS ARE CORRECTED
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Dale Bumpers said Wednesday that he had made no decision on whether to grant clemency to James Dean Walker, who is serving a life sentence for the 1963 slaying of a North Little Rock policeman.

Like Robin Hood, Says Reagan
SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Gov. Ronald Reagan's finance director describes the idea of a statewide property tax to finance public schools as "a little bit of the Robin Hood principle."

"You take away from about 20 per cent of the wealthy school districts to distribute to the 80 per cent of the less wealthy," Verne Orr said Tuesday.

The Republican state administration has supported the concept of a statewide tax in the past.

State officials are looking at a statewide property tax as perhaps the best means of meeting a ruling of the California Supreme Court that the local property tax system of public school finance is unconstitutional.

Monday's ruling could revolutionize school finance throughout the nation if the state decides to carry an appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court and the state court decision is upheld.

All states except Hawaii and Utah rely heavily on the local property tax for school aid and support.

The 6-1 court decision held that the current system discriminates against the children who live in poor school districts.

An education is a fundamental right under the equal protection clause of the U.S. Constitution, the court said, and "cannot be conditioned on wealth." The court suggested no remedy.

At present, the nearly 1,200 independent school districts in California raise about $3 billion a year from the local property tax. They get another $1.6 billion in state aid and additional funds from the federal government.

Reagan last year proposed a statewide school tax of $2.05 per $100 of assessed valuation. It was rejected largely because of opposition from wealthy districts, which would have had to raise their rates and share that new revenue with poor districts.

School finance experts in the capital have suggested a statewide tax rate of nearly $4 for each $100 of assessed valuation—about $800 on a $20,000 house.

At present the owner of a $20,000 house in California pays as little as $50 in school property taxes a year or as much as $350, depending on the school district in which he lives.

And paying more doesn't assure a good education for his children, because the amount of revenue raised by property taxes depends on the total wealth of the district.

Some experts have objected to a statewide property tax as still inequitable. They have suggested equalizing the amount spent per student by redrawing district lines or increasing the state's contribution to poorer districts.

No Decision on Clemency
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A spokesman for the Internal Revenue Service said Wednesday that some valid complaints of violations of President Nixon's wage-price freeze have been discovered by the IRS office here.

In each instance, the spokesman said, a telephone call to the person involved was enough to correct the violation.

Most of the violators were grocery stores that had raised food prices or persons who had raised rents.

WHEN IN ROME, a quick coverup has been the order of the day for some tourists in Europe this summer as a result of the Vatican's enforcement of a properly modest dress code at churches and shrines. The maxi-skirted visitors at right have no problems, but for one girl St. Peter's Square becomes an in-the-wide-open dressing room for a spur-of-the-moment costume change.

Rest from Labor

Labor Day—the day we celebrate how hard we work by not working at all. Our forefathers would have thought this a luxurious idea, for their only respite came when the sun went down. Only then could they hang up their hat, coat and breeches and sit down to rest. They knew nothing of paid vacations, weekends off, overtime, retirement, or other benefits we take for granted.

Labor Day must surely seem facetious to the unemployed. We fuss and gripe about having to get up each morning, but we should be thankful that we have something to get up for.

Amidst the holiday fun, laboring people should give thanks for the good things this country has given her workers and resolve to help her correct her inadequacies.

Donna Entertains in Vietnam

Donna Connelly and the Miss America troupe performing at Danang during their Vietnam tour. From the left; Hela Yungst, Miss New Jersey; Vicki Jo Todd, Miss Nevada; Karen Shields, Miss Arizona; Phyllis George, Miss America; Bellinda Myrick, Miss Texas; Donna; and Cheryl Browne, Miss Iowa.

The most rewarding times for Donna and the girls came during their informal visits with soldiers. Hospital visits were an important part of the schedule. Here Donna and Vicki Jo Todd, Miss Nevada, share a laugh with a patient at the 91st Evacuation Hospital, Chu Lai, South Vietnam.

By CAPT. JOHN BAHNER
LONG BINH, Republic of Vietnam (USARV-10) Nothing can brighten the day for a soldier in Vietnam more than the sight of a beautiful American girl. When this phenomenon is repeated seven times over, with the opportunity for informal conversation thrown in, true happiness is found.

This pleasant circumstance was repeated often during the 22 day Vietnam visit of the 1971 Miss America-USO Show. Bringing her own charm and warm personality to the troops as a member of the show was Donna Connelly, Miss Arkansas 1970.

In addition to Donna, other members of the show were Phyllis George, Miss America 1971; Hela Yungst, Miss New Jersey; Vicki Jo Todd, Miss Nevada; Karen Shields, Miss Arizona; Cheryl Browne, Miss Iowa; Bellinda Myrick, Miss Texas; and Mrs. Irene Bryant, traveling companion to Miss America.

In covering the four military regions of South Vietnam, the USO troupe visited all areas, from Saigon to the large base camps to firebases near the Cambodian border. The girls dined in the mess halls with the troops, and entertained with a 24 act performance entitled T.C.B. (Taking Care of Business). Visiting hospitals throughout the command, the girls proved that a friendly smile from home is indeed the best medicine a man can have.

In traversing the Republic of Vietnam, Donna and her companions utilized all kinds of aircraft, from giant CH-47 Chinook Skyhooks and 7-21 prop airplanes to the UH-1 Huey helicopter, workhorse of the Army fleet. The girls displayed no emotion as the lumbering, quivering Chinooks deposited them at isolated firebases. Instead, their total time spent in flight was nearly sufficient to qualify them for the Air Medal! Undoubtedly the high point of each visit for Donna was the opportunity to meet and talk informally with the G.I.s. There were not enough hours in each day to accommodate all the men to whom a few words from a pretty girl meant so much.

All the members of the Miss America-USO Show will remember events of their three weeks in South Vietnam. But longer still will they be remembered by the many soldiers far from home, reassured by their visit that many people still care.

NEW YORK (AP) — More than 10,000 letters and cards expressing condolences on the death of Louis Armstrong have been received by his widow. They have come from every state in the union and more than 20 other countries.

Mrs. Armstrong has asked that anyone wishing to make a charitable donation to the late trumpeter's memory set it to the Kidney Research Foundation or the Sickle Cell Anemia

SAIGON (AP) — More of South Vietnam's numerous political and religious groups today urged President Nguyen Van Thieu to call off his one-man presidential election, and Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky said Thieu is pursuing a "dangerous and dictatorial" course.

The president, foreseeing the possibility of widespread street demonstrations, named the chief of the Central Intelligence office, an organization similar to the FBI, to head the 110,000-man national police force.

Eleven political and religious groups joined in a declaration urging Thieu to resign and organize "a fair and honest election based on a new election law."

Signers of the declaration included the old-line Vietnamese Nationalist party, a northern Catholic Refugee party, the Vietnamese Confederation of Labor, two parties affiliated with the Hoa Hao and Cao Dai sects, and the Disabled Veterans Association, which has been in the forefront of past street demonstrations.

Eight other parties made a similar statement Thursday shortly before Thieu announced that he would consider the one-man election Oct. 3 a referendum. He said he would step down if he failed to win a vote of confidence, but he did not specify what size vote would be his criterion.

Political observers said the 19 parties and organizations do not represent massive support, and their opposition is a "controllable" element as far as Thieu is concerned. Such major factions as the antigovernment An Quang Buddhists have not commented on Thieu's announcement.

Ky told a group of Vietnamese journalists that he is still willing to use his influence to seek a political compromise among the "nationalists," a term he did not explain.

In the police shakeup, official sources said Thieu had fired Maj. Gen. Tran Thanh Phong for "incompetence and inefficiency in dealing with riot control." Brig. Gen. Nguyen Khac Binh was named to replace him.

The national police force has grown from 50,000 men to 110,000 in the past two years and is now being reorganized on military lines.

WASHINGTON (AP) — An FBI investigation into the leaking of sensitive information to newsmen by government officials extends to the White House and Pentagon as well as the State Department, it has been learned today.

According to informants the White House ordered the FBI into the unusual probe after a July 23 New York Times story gave details of a new secret American proposal at the U.S.-Soviet strategic-arms-limitation talks in Helsinki.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Cost of Living Council planned today to refine its ruling on teacher pay, but no backdown was expected, despite rising protests from teachers that they deserve special exemptions from the wage-price freeze.

A council source said today's ruling will clarify—but not substantially alter—previous guidelines.
